As most of us know, there has recently been a movie released, Mortal Kombat. We've all played the game at least once in our childhood and fell in love with some of the characters that we played while playing the game. Characters Scorpion, Kitana, Sub-Zero, Raiden, Baraka, etc. have been played by many, including myself. The movie is about an MMA fighter Cole Young who is haunted by Sub-Zero. He finds sanctuary at the temple of Lord Raiden, he trains with experienced fighters Liu Kang, Hung Lao, and the rogue mercenary Kano, Cole prepares to stand with Earth's greatest champions to take on the enemies from Outworld in a high-stakes battle for the universe. Some of us love the gore that the game has; heart-snatching, limb-hacking, body splitting and so much more, and some well some of us rather not watch the gore.

President Joe Biden has proposed a maximum of $15,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers that would go towards the down payment. One issue is that it could cause home prices to rise even more and impact demand, especially for first-time buyers who are seeking more affordable homes.

There will be a "super Blood Moon" visible in May. This Blood Moon will be visible on May 26. It is called the Super Blood Moon because it is two lunar phenomena happening at once. The "super" part of this is because the moon will appear bigger and closer to earth. The "blood Moon" part of it is because of its unique red color.

Problem: Feeling Disorganized?

Advice: We're almost there! If we were all honest, we all are extremely ready for summer. We've worked hard throughout the year and were continuing to carry that effort out. Though, sometimes you might feel disorganized or feeling overwhelmed. That's okay! You've worked so hard this whole time, and this year especially has taken a big toll on us. Take some time to organize your computer, organize your backpack, or even organize everything essential to be successful. Start to also time manage yourself! If you have practice after school and you don't have time to do your work when you get home. If you have free time, take time to finish that homework, or even start that assignment. Anything will help to make you better. We're almost there. Make it count.

Problem: How can I stop fearing the concept of failure?

Advice: We all have fear in our hearts, but we have to stop it from letting us not do what we want to do. Fear can stop so many important and positive things that can come up on us, and it's always a regretful feeling after. Fear control us, and in order to get over that fear you need to conquer your ideas and thoughts. Of course you may think you can avoid failure but that's not how life goes. We have to go through something in order to progress as people. So don't let the fear of failure stop you in your path because you could be destined for greatness.

Problem: It is hard to be motivated when I don't know what I want to do.

Advice: Many teens are unsure of what they want to do. Many of us wonder "Why should I care about doing [Whatever] if I don't even know if it will be relevant to what I do in the future." Sometimes I'm unsure if what I want to do is really what I want. What keeps me motivated is knowing that whatever I decide to do, high school will be stepping stone. You may wake up one day wanting to cure cancer, and having did well in high school will have given you a couple extra steps. Try not to think too deeply about your future career or goals. Just do what you can for now and go on from there. Each accomplishment is another mark on your canvas.
